Greg Ross serves as an Environmental Technician for Triterra. His work focuses on hazardous material inspections (asbestos, lead-paint, and mold) at commercial and residential properties throughout Michigan. He is focused on providing timely and practical solutions to clients in order to keep projects on track and under budget, always with the underlying objective of safeguarding public health. Greg also conducts routine soil, groundwater, and soil-gas sampling activities for contaminant investigation and remediation projects. Greg's favorite part of working at Triterra is "The friendly, family-oriented atmosphere. Team efforts to overcome challenges and complete our projects and goals." When Greg isn't with the Triterra crew he enjoys "Anything outdoors, traveling, hunting and making memories with family."
